

TESTIMONIAL

To whom it may Concern,

PROPOSED NEW ERECTION OF A 2-STOREY SEMI-DETACHED DWELLING HOUSE
WITH AN ATTIC AT 118A HILLCREST ROAD

Eurobuild was a very involved, cooperative and responsive partner in the whole development and construction process. Mr Peh gave valuable input and insight as to whether certain designs, construction process or materials were suitable for the house. When unexpected and unforeseen problems were encountered during the construction stage, they did not shirk from their responsibility; they rectified the problems even though the problems were out of the scope of the contract. They focus on the project objectives. They were also flexible and responsive when changes were made during the construction process. I found them willing to listen to and try to accommodate these changes. After the moving in date, they were very responsive to teething problems and rectified them immediately.

Their team (from QS to foreman and construction workers) was hardworking and friendly. They kept the site clean and took precautions to minimise the noise, dirt and other inconveniences to the neighbours.

Eurobuild and the architect were able to work together harmoniously. The whole design, development and construction process was an enjoyable and relatively smooth one with the three parties of architect, contractor and house owner working well together.

(House Owner)
